ProMutual Group Board Member Honored With Pinnacle Award from MACEP

Boston, MA—The Massachusetts College of Emergency Physicians (MACEP) recently presented Bruce Auerbach, MD, with the organization’s Pinnacle Award. This award, which has only been presented four other times previously in the organization’s history, serves to recognize exemplary service and dedication to emergency medicine.

Dr. Auerbach currently serves as Vice President and Chief of Emergency Ambulatory Services at Sturdy Memorial Hospital in Attleboro, Massachusetts. He also serves as a member of the Board of Directors of ProMutual Group, chair of the American College of Emergency Physicians’ Federal Governmental Affairs Committee and chair of the National Emergency Medicine Political Action Committee (NEMPAC). In addition, he has served for a long time as a member of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health’s Medical Advisory Board, receiving a special recognition award in 2000 from that agency.

“Dr. Auerbach had demonstrated exceptional commitment to the many issues affecting emergency medicine and public health for nearly two decades,” said Susan Beer, executive director of MACEP. “He has been at the forefront of solving problems related to important healthcare issues such as trauma, EMS, crowding and diversion. It is only fitting that he receives the highest award the Massachusetts College of Emergency Physicians can bestow for his ongoing commitment to emergency medicine, his patients, and his colleagues.”

Dr. Auerbach has been recognized in the past by the MACEP for serving on its board and as the College’s president in 1989. He has been honored with MACEP’s Vanguard Award in 1988 and the Indomitable Spirit Award in 1993.

ProMutual Group provides medical professional liability insurance coverage to nearly 16,000 physicians, surgeons and dentists as well as hundreds of hospitals, health centers and clinics. The companies operate in Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Rhode Island and Vermont.
