PROMUTUAL GROUP'S CLAIMS DEPARTMENT ADDS NEW TALENT WITH RACHEL WITTMAN AND FIONA ST. JOHN-PARSONS

Boston, MA (July 23, 2007) – ProMutual Group, a leading provider of medical liability insurance in the northeast, is pleased to announce the addition of two new experienced professionals in its claims department. Fiona St. John-Parsons will serve as a unit manager and supervise claims brought against Connecticut and Western Massachusetts policyholders while Rachel Wittman will serve as a claim representative and adjust medical malpractice claims in the New Jersey and Pennsylvania regions. Each will be a valued addition to the company's knowledgeable claims team which is comprised of individuals with backgrounds in healthcare, law and insurance.

"We are thrilled that both Rachel and Fiona are joining our team," said Almor Afonso, vice president of claims for ProMutual Group. "Each brings unique skills and talents to the department, and we are eager to put them to work for our policyholders."

Before joining ProMutual Group, Ms. St. John-Parsons served as a director of complex claims at American International Group, where, in addition to working as an adjuster on her own caseload of claims, she supervised several junior claims examiners as well as outside law firms. Prior to her position at American International Group, Ms. St. John-Parsons practiced law as a litigation associate in the law offices of Gordon & Silber P.C. and Schiavetti, Corgan, Soscia, DiEdwards & Nicholson LLP, where she defended physicians, hospitals and private medical practices in medical malpractice actions. She got her start in law working primarily in juvenile rights and child abuse cases for a variety of different organizations dedicated to those causes.

Ms. St. John-Parsons is a graduate of Columbia University and Brooklyn Law School. A former aspiring ballet dancer, she enjoys cooking, running and is a volunteer dog walker at the Boston Animal Rescue League. She currently resides in Brookline, Massachusetts.

Ms. Wittman comes to ProMutual Group with a depth of experience in the insurance industry as well as the general healthcare industry. Starting her career at Mohawk Valley General Hospital as a medical technologist, Ms. Wittman continued with her interest in the healthcare fields by serving as a regulatory affairs specialist for North American Instrument Corporation. Following these positions, she moved into the medical malpractice fields with St. Paul Fire & Marine as a medical claim representative and then with PHICO Insurance Company as a senior claim representative. Before joining ProMutual Group, Ms. Wittman was a director of major case liability healthcare claims for St. Paul Travelers.

A graduate of Plattsburgh State University, Ms. Wittman currently resides in Exeter, Pennsylvania. She holds a Medical Technologist (ASCP) license and is a certified Associate Risk Manager and Casualty Adjuster in Connecticut and Delaware.
